MUSIC & LITURGY NOTES: FUNERALS (PART 1)

When a loved one passes away, we are usually struck with despair and sadness. These are perfectly normal human emotions in reaction to a life changing event such as death, but as I mentioned last week, the Church does not view the funeral of one of its members as an occasion of sorrow, but rather an occasion of great joy. The deceased can now be rekindled with God in all of the glorious promises of heaven. Before planning a funeral, it is important to recognize that the Catholic Mass of Christian Burial differs greatly from a protestant or secular memorial service. While the focus of a memorial service outside of the Catholic Church may be solely on the life of the deceased, the focus of the Catholic Mass is always on Jesus Christ, His victory over death, and the deceased's participation in the Paschal Mystery. Nevertheless, the funeral Mass also seeks to console the family and friends of the departed with the Christian hope of life after death and our continuing union with the deceased in Christ. For the faithful, "life is changed not ended." It can be comforting to remember that our deceased loved ones have seen the face of God. We are then better able to reconcile with all the faithful departed. In the Mass, we experience the consolation of praying with each other, with the whole Church, with all the saints, and (continued) with Jesus Christ Himself and of having them pray for us. This tangible connection with the Communion of Saints, those who pray for us in heaven and even those who still need us to pray for them, can be a comfort and consolation for us as we mourn the loss of a loved one. Now that we have established that Christ is at the center of a funeral Mass, which is a different perspective from a memorial service where perhaps only the memory of the deceased is highlighted, we can continue to speak about the elements that make up a funeral Mass. Next week we will start with the Introductory Rites.

On a lighter note, last week I mentioned that I had spent this past week in Houston attending the bi-annual conference of the American Guild of Organists, our nation's largest professional organization for church musicians. I am happy to report that it was announced at the annual meeting of members that I was one of eleven candidates who have successfully passed the Guild's "associate" certification exam. The Guild offers four levels of certification; the associate is the second highest ranking. Back in May, I undertook nine hours of testing over two days. I was tested on organ playing, hymn playing, choral accompanying, composition, harmonization, transposition, sight reading, musical analysis, aural skills, and general musical knowledge. It was a grueling nine hours—made even worse by being in an un-air conditioned space! Nevertheless, I am grateful to have achieved this honor; thank you all for allowing me to continue to nurture my musical skills at the parish. This certification is a bit like any professional certification in that one can have a law degree without passing the bar exam, or one can be a teacher without passing the praxis. Organists can function without the certification, but having it is a great distinction. I hope to prepare for the final certification level, the fellow level, in the next few years.

REFLECTION ON THE JUBILEE YEAR OF MERCY

"All family life is a 'shepherding' in mercy. Each of us, by our love and care, leaves a mark on the life of others; with Paul, we can say: 'You are our letter of recommendation, written on your hearts [...] not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living God' (2 Cor 3:2-3). Each of us is a 'fisher of men' (Lk 5:10) who in Jesus' name 'casts the nets' (cf. Lk 5:5) to others, or a farmer who tills the fresh soil of those whom he or she loves, seeking to bring out the best in them. [...] This is itself a way to worship God, who has sown so much good in others in the hope that we will help make it grow." SECOND COLLECTION: PETER'S PENCE

This weekend, June 25/26, all parishes in the Archdiocese of Washington will take up the Peter's Pence collection. Gifts to this annual collection help the Holy Father support victims of war, oppression, natural disasters, and others most in need of assistance. Our participation in this collection gives us an opportunity to be a witness of Our Lord's love and mercy for the vulnerable and suffering around the world. Please give generously as you are able.

POOR BOX

The Poor Box next weekend, July 2/3, will benefit the Msgr. Christopher Fund, which provides need-based scholarships to our parish school.

PUT YOUR CONTRIBUTION ENVELOPES ON A PERMANENT "SUMMER VACATION" AND MAKE THE SWITCH TO E-GIVING.

By embracing this practice, you will simplify your giving and help provide our parish with consistent support.

This is especially important in the summer months, when families may be out of town and St. Jane de Chantal does not receive their envelopes.

It is easy for people to forget to catch up once they are back, and our weekly offertory can fluctuate as a result — making it harder to predict how much we will have to sustain our year-round ministries. Making the switch is easy: You can enroll online at www.faithdirect.net or pick up a paper enrollment form in the gathering space of church.

Our parish code is MD30.
